

Formed in East London in 2013 •Broken DC• bring a twin guitar attack with blissed out vocals and set to a white wash collage of sounds, both light and dark.

The line up includes Kevin Williams on guitar/vocals, Ivona Behalova on guitar/vocals, Jodie Cox on drums and Ben Savigear on drums.

Their debut album Astragal (Godunknown records), named after the Albertine Sarrazin book, and incidentally Patti Smith's favourite work of fiction, is a work of pure unadulterated beauty, "a celebration of rebellion, love and survival". PROG ROCK magazine.